HOME NEWS.

GREENBRIER, WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, July 11.—Fifteen miles west of here the construction train went into Greenbrier river. The engineer, fireman and four laborers were killed and five wounded.

The accident occurred on the new road towards Ohio, not on the road frequented by travelers to Virginia resorts.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Francis Lienen who jumped twenty-five hundred dollars bail for robbery in Savannah has been arrested here. He will be taken back to-day.

The deaths for the week were 639, including 45 sun strokes.

A special from Madrid of the 10th says Dr. Howard is set free. The order from Madrid offered his release as an act of pardon, to which he demurred, as his acceptance of it might appear as an acknowledgment of guilt and a waiver of his right to compensation. He was then turned over to the military authorities.

There is an ice famine in Brooklyn, causing great suffering among the sick. There has been no ice for the citizens for forty-eight hours. The ice companies blame the strike of laborers.

It is reported that two breweries have failed with liabilities of $375,000.

An adjourned meeting of South Carolina bondholders was held to-day. The object of the meeting to take counsel and immediate action to compel the payment of accrued and unpaid interest on the bonds of that State.

The meeting was much larger in numbers than the one previously held, not less than $400,000 of bonds being presented. The substitute clauses the committee only with power to confer with bondholders not here present and report the results of the same to a future meeting; and further that the chair appoint a committee, himself to be a member.

The following resolutions were presented: Resolved, That a committee of three persons, to consist of E. A. Quintard, E. B. Wesley and A. A. Drake, be appointed to solicit the co-operation of owners and holders of bonds of the State of South Carolina, in the attempt to collect past due coupons with authority to engage counsel to commence legal proceedings against the officers of the State or its legal financial board; also to raise funds by subscription to promote such proceedings without delay.

Be it further Resolved, That all parties interested be earnestly requested to assist said committee by as early a subscription as possible.

The substitute prevailed, and the committee was authorized to collect subscriptions for legal expenses.

On motion, the committee was further empowered to employ eminent counsel.

At which the meeting adjourned to Thursday next.

RYE, N. Y., July 12.—A shock of earthquake was experienced in this vicinity about 5:30 this morning. It was very distinctly felt at the residences of Mr. Abot and Mr. Luther, the inmates having been awakened from their slumbers, and also at the residence of J. M. Jones, in Rye. This house was severely shaken. The residence of Mr. Ashby, publisher of the Journal at Port Chester, was likewise visibly rocked. At Greenwich, Connecticut, shocks were also felt.

There was an earthquake at 5:30 this morning at various points on Long Island and on the Hudson.

SALT LAKE, July 11.—David Smith, youngest son of the Prophet Joseph, is lecturing against polygamy.

SARATOGA, July 11.—The report that the time of the Saratoga races has been changed is not true. The races will begin Saturday, the 13th, and continue six days. Luffell and Bassett are both here.

CHARLESTON, July 11.—The News of this morning, noticing the Baltimore nominations, says: "Honestly and frankly we declare our opinion that, in the action of the Baltimore Convention yesterday, there is the remedy for every public trouble, and the beginning of an era of unity of thought and purpose for these thirty millions of people."

The Courier says: "The enthusiasm for Mr. Greeley came first from the South and at the South will receive a support as earnest and enthusiastic as he will receive among his warmest friends at home."

JACKSON, MISS., July 11.—The news from Baltimore was received with great rejoicing. There was firing of cannon all this afternoon, and a long torch-light procession is passing through the principal streets, after which there will be speaking. Among the orators are Judge Alcorn and Lieut. Burnett, besides many of the former Democratic faithful.

NEW ORLEANS, July 11.—An imprudent ratification meeting was held in Lafayette Square. The exercises consisted of a torch-light procession, music and addresses. There was great enthusiasm.

HALIFAX, July 11.—The Digby crew won the four-oared race. The Brown-Coulter race is expected to take place this afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—David Paul Brown, an eminent lawyer and author, is dead, aged 78 years.

CHARLESTON, July 11.—Trustworthy accounts have been received here of the appearance of the first and second brood of caterpillars in the cotton along the coast. They are thin and scattered in every field. This is one week earlier than their appearance in the same section in 1868, when they were exceedingly destructive. Planters entertain grave apprehensions that the present showery weather will develop them rapidly.

ICE AT TWO CENTS A POUND.

I am now prepared to furnish the public with ice.

POLITICAL.

Digesting Greeley.

ELMIRA, July 11.—Samuel C. Taber has resigned membership in the State Republican Committee. He supports Greeley.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The World says: "In faithful fulfillment of the pledge which the World has constantly repeated since its great disappointment at the surprising nomination of Greeley as President."

It deprecates abusing anti-Greeley Democrats, and says that, unless they can be won over, the campaign against Grant is utterly hopeless. The great object is harmony and unanimity.

General Breckinridge expresses himself in favor of Greeley.

The Tribune heads its account of the proceedings at Baltimore with the cut of two hands grasping.

The Tribune captions its account with, "Midsummer Madness—The Last Act of the Democratic Bedlamites."

The committee appointed to inform Mr. Greeley of his nomination, met to-night to fix the time.

MONTGOMERY, July 11.—All the daily Democratic papers of Alabama have hoisted the Greeley ticket, and the weeklies will do so the earliest day.

The white people are satisfied with the work of the Convention. The negroes are sore on the subject. A negro speaker promised a whipping to any negro voting the Greeley ticket, and his hearers loudly applauded the sentiment. This incident indicates the general feeling among the colored men on the subject of Greeley's nomination.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Several Southern delegates to the late Convention yet remain in Washington, as also do several from the North, who desired to make a brief visit. Some of them paid visits to the public officials to-day and reciprocal courtesies were exchanged.

IMPOSTERS.

"Things are not what they seem."

Imposters have done more to check benevolence than any other class, perhaps, and for this reason, leaving their own rascality entirely out of consideration, they should be let severely alone, when it is impossible to punish them otherwise. A case of this kind we have in mind, wherein the party victimized a number of clever gentlemen in this city with a piteous tale, which appealed strongly to their sympathies and caused them to respond liberally. He stated that he wished to go in a certain direction and was furnished with a railroad pass, part of the way, but instead of doing so, went in a direction totally opposite, and when last seen was telling the same tale in Atlanta, only his parents were then living in South Carolina instead of Kentucky. Verily, things are not always what they seem, and in all probability, with this case in mind, if appealed to for aid by the unfortunate woman from Louisville, who is now enjoying the hospitalities of the city, perhaps some would say "not for Joseph."

The woman seems to be in distress, but who she is or where she hails from, no one appears to know.

Failure of the Crops in Hungary.

From Hungary comes intelligence which renders it probable that a great demand will be made upon the wheat crop of America for this year in various portions of the Kingdom. The prospect of crops has been completely destroyed; more than four hundred thousand acres are now under water. Somewhat similar has been the experience of Bohemia. Toward the end of May there were heavy falls of rain accompanied with waterspouts so that the Rivers Elbe, Moldave, Eger and Beraun have overflowed their banks and inundated the country with such fearful rapidity in the most of the flooded districts the water rose four and five feet in a minute. Great disaster was the result; more than two hundred persons were drowned, and an immense number of houses have been destroyed. In some places whole villages are in ruins, while millions of dollars' worth of property have been destroyed in crops, houses, roads, bridges and stored goods. A direct consequence of this failure of the markets which have supplied a great portion of Europe with grain would appear to be the necessity of drawing large supplies from other countries.—*N. Y. Jail Delivery at Dandridge.

Last night four of our sheriff's boarders concluded to change their location and leave for parts unknown, without saying farewell or giving the customary notice. The prisoners were confined in a strong cage and every precaution was used by the sheriff, Mr. Walker, and his deputy, Mr. Webb, to make the jail perfectly safe and secure, and at some hour in the dead of night these four men, having previously cut the bars of their cage, made their way into the main room of the jail, then, prying open the large iron door, entered the front room, where, tying their bed clothes, which they had cut, twisted and knotted into a rope, to the bars of another cage, they went through the front window and descended to the ground and fled. They made no noise in their work, as no one was awakened, not even the prisoners in the adjoining cages. Mr. Webb was sleeping in the jail and knew nothing of the affair until morning.

The cages are made of heavy cross bars of iron securely bolted together, and the prisoners cut eight of these bars and the heads of two bolts. From all appearances the work must have been done for some time, as every cut was very rusty. Our jail, under the supervision of Sheriff Walker, has been noted throughout the country for its safety, and prisoners have been sent from other counties here for safe keeping. No blame can be attached to the Sheriff or his deputy in this matter.

O. P. DILDOCK, Dandridge, Tenn., July 10, 1872.

DAUGHTER OF THE LATE WAR.—The South German losses by the late war, now officially made up, were as follows: Killed and died of wounds, 282 officers, 3,543 men; Wurttemberg, 39 officers, 651 men; Baden, 44 officers, 723 men. Total killed, wounded and missing, 1,051 officers, 21,442.

BALTIMORE NOT ENTHUSED.

Democracy not "Hankering for Crow."

Ramsdell, of the Cincinnati Commercial, is strong for Greeley, but he couldn't find much encouragement at Baltimore. Here is what he telegraphed about the way the degeneration of crow went on:

The fact need not be concealed that except in the Southern delegations there is almost an entire absence of any strong feeling in favor of Greeley, yet there is no doubt he will be nominated on the first ballot. Another fact also attracts attention and excites remark, and that is the want of enthusiasm. Thus far there has been no earnestness from any quarter, but it is said it will show itself when the nomination is made.

The general bearing of the people here assembled is rather serious and dignified. There is not the usual air of good feeling which conventions generally present, but there is something which gives the tone of the suggestion that perhaps the Democrats don't like the crow, but are determined to eat it rather than go without their dinner. The crowd is a good looking one, and generally a good natured one.

Crapsey, of the New York Times, says: Late to-night the Democrats are woefully disheartened, and their utter lack of love for the work they have on hand is evident to the most casual observer. They may be able to force themselves into some semblance of enthusiasm when they get together and have their disagreeable task accomplished, but the chances are against it.

The crowd here is much less than it was expected, and now, when everybody who is likely to be here has arrived, there is less than 3,000 persons in town who have been attracted by the convention. It was a noticeable fact that there never was a gathering of politicians so gloom, never one which seemed so heartily ashamed of the business in which it was engaged. There are some in every delegation who are bitterly opposed to the surrender. There is no one among them who dares claim Greeley as his first choice, or advocate him upon any other ground than that of expediency.

Brick Pomeroy, with his hundred thousand subscribers to the Democrat, fights Greeley. Here is what he says:

M. M. Pomeroy having been called upon for a speech, addressed the assembly, saying that this was the time for work and not for talk. He did not believe in the cry of choosing between the two Republican evils. He did not want to have the devil Greeley, whose life was tainted with treason, and who was opposed to the rights of the States and the rights of the people. Greeley never can be President. The true Democrats will not support him, while as to others deficient in principle known by that name, the gold and silver of Grant is more potent than the turnips and cabbages of the farmer of Chappaqua.

The Pennsylvania delegation was divided and had a bitter strong session. Crapsey says of it:

Later developments as to the Pennsylvania caucus show it to have been an extremely stormy affair, and it did not adjourn until after 10 o'clock. The delegation stood 34 for Greeley and 24 opposed. The most earnest champion of Mr. Greeley was Hon. Samuel J. Randall, while the opposition to him was led by the delegates from Berks and York counties, the strongest Democratic counties in the State.

Campaign Notes.

Senator Robertson is in Washington, having just completed a tour of North and South Carolina. He claims the former for Grant and Caldwell for Governor by 10,000 and South Carolina for Grant in November by 25,000.

Advices from Mississippi continue of a most encouraging character. The colored vote is nearly solid for Grant, and hundreds of white Democrats refuse to vote for Greeley.

Hon. James Brooks, a Democratic Congressman from New York, traveled in Europe during nearly all of the last session of Congress, but walked up to the clerk's desk and drew his pay for the whole session, just as any Democrat would do. He is busy now abusing the President for taking a little rest at Long Branch.

The Democrats start out in this campaign playing the game of brag. A friend of Grant's, in New York, after publishing about for some days that he wanted to bet ten thousand on the "little General," was finally accommodated by five Greeley friends, who gave two thousand a piece to the "lost cause." They said it wouldn't do to let such bets go without takers, so they each sacrificed a little. They never expect to see it again.

The New York World consents to support Greeley, because if elected, it says, he will be so hooked with Democratic bait, that he will be their President. The argument with all Democrats is, "Vote for Greeley, it's our only chance for office."

Painful Condition.

The Memphis Appeal is in the most unhappy frame of mind. It fears the election of a Republican Sheriff, and shows such signs of hydrophobia as the following:

Beaumont, Curry and Barbour Lewis will be, for years to come, supreme masters of this county if Curry be elected its Sheriff. The colored vote will be compacted and organized, every county magistrate hereafter elected will be black as Barbour's tastes, and Shelby county will become the choicest abode of savagery and desolation. Memphis, in order to escape black domination, will compel an immediate change of the State constitution so that the city may become a county of itself, and escape the rule of savages, of Barbour and Curry, and the horrible combination of which they constitute the central figures. The white man who supports Curry is a traitor to his people, to the city and county, and his memory will be execrated forever.

Slag.

The utilization of furnace slag is now very usefully accomplished by allowing it to run off into moulds alongside the furnace, in which it assumes the form of rectangular blocks of any desirable size. When cold the mass forms a compact, homogeneous slag, very much resembling porphyry, and is said to be equal for building and engineering purposes, to the best descriptions of natural stones that can be produced from the quarry.

Local Miscellany.

Mr. T. A. Barrier has laid the foundation for a dwelling house on Summit Hill, alongside that recently erected by Mr. W. T. Osborne.

Mr. W. C. Bailey, of McMinn's, is a progressive man and believes in keeping up with the times. He is an admirer of the Jersey breed of cattle and has lately bought a fine calf of that stock.

The frame building near the depot, formerly used for packing hay, is being used as a place of worship by the colored Campbellite Baptists.

While two friends were engaged in sowing "wild oats" at a saloon yesterday, one of them accused the other of feloniously abducting his Norway. This was resented when a knock down ensued—a reconciliation was effected, however.

A. G. Scott has a novelty in the way of a rocking chair with fan attachment, which is just the thing for a person with plenty of leisure this hot weather.

Hall received another instalment of wild geese plums and distributed them among his friends yesterday.

A man named May got into a difficulty yesterday in which he received several contusions on his face.

Messrs. Eugene Cramer and J. W. Fox, formerly members of Grayson's theatrical troupe, are now engaged in painting the scenery for Staub's Opera House.

We call attention to Mr. Gilbert's announcement for a contest in another column. He secured once in this capacity faithfully and will again if elected.

Athens Dots.

Owing to the decline in the price there is not much being done in the wheat market just now. The farmers were all willing to sell at $1.50, but their wheat, which is in good condition, could not sell. Corn which looked sorry a few weeks ago in consequence of the drouth in the forepart of the spring has fully recovered and looks well.

Our County Court has repealed the dog tax law passed sometime ago. This law was very unpopular with the Democratic portion of our population—a great many of them believing that to tax a dog was to tax a Democrat.

The Reader Hotel recently purchased by Mr. Joseph Matthews, has been overhauled, and presents quite an attractive appearance to what it did.

The spirit of '72 was manifested here on the 4th by way of getting gloriously so. Blackberries constitute our staple of trade at this time.

It is said that President Lincoln's family were intensely pained by the publication of Ward Lamon's book. Robert Lincoln attempted to buy up the whole edition, and, failing in that, went to Europe in order to be out of the way when the uncertainty stories about his father and grandfather were exciting the first sensation.
